

What life would look like:

I will live in a nice, big penthouse in Vancouver with my 2 cats. I will be a work-at-home editor and on the side an author. I'll travel to Japan, South Korea, China, and Britain. A typical day would be me at home by myself working and writing, so I can work towards publishing more of my work. I want to live a life of luxury.

My Income:

An editor makes an average of $53K yearly, a successful one can make an upwards of $81k. Since I'll be writing on the side, how much I make as an author varies greatly depending on how well my published work does. If it sells, then I make more, if it doesn't, then I don't make as much.

Costs:

Penthouse in Vancouver: Approximately $3 million, BMW car: around $50k, Bengal cat: $1.5k, Persian cat: $500, travel: in total for each trip would amount to around $12k.
